

GREEN TEA PARTY

21st Century democracy will be built upon a foundation of transparency, trust and accountability. The rapidly changing media landscape will not afford the luxury of partisanship or corruption to a representative government that at present feels no debt of responsibility to its constituency. As information continues to become more readily accessible and varied beyond the narrow channels to which we've grown accustomed, the burgeoning new citizenry of this country will no longer buy into the failed paradigms that have forced future generations to pay for the irresponsibility of those currently in power.

Why Go Green?

We believe that all Americans have the right to adequate health care, an excellent education and strong environmental regulation in balance with a free market economy. We are certain that government corruption can be greatly diminished by integrating representative government and the Internet with the intention of creating an interactive democracy that allows for direct engagement by citizens.

The Green Tea Party is willing to move passed the political differences that divide our great nation along superficial lines. We believe that every citizen wants what's best for America. It is time to replace rhetoric with common sense. Now, more than ever, not only is change possible, it is absolutely essential.

The Green Tea Party – because America deserves better.
